To the Editor of the Herald: Can the Herald, which is appealed to on so many topics, tell me the most popular style of straw hat and where I can get it? Thanking you Yours truly, F. A. JOHNSON.

The Herald can; but the Herald won't. Soliciting advertisements from all, it would be bad business to discriminate in favor of any one. If not for that the Herald would undoubtedly mention our name.

NEW YORK JOURNAL, JUNE 24, 1899.

Still have the call-we have been very liberal buyers this week. 5,000 suits just from the best tailor shops ready for your inspection and ready to wear. Every seam and button has been critically examined before being placed on our counters. Our buyer secured these suits at his own price. We backed him with spot cash. The check was signed three hours after the suits were counted and invoice O. K.ed. We know the values are big-bigger than you have reason to expect—but it is to our advantage as well as yours to sell at low prices. You have friends and acquaintances that we know will call on us when they hear the price and see the

The call for those serviceable $5.95 Serge Suits still goes on. We have secured quite a big lot of them with this purchase. The description again—single or double breasted coat, single or double breasted vest, French facing on coats, lapped seam, so as to stand an extra strain, buttons sewed on as firm as on one of our $20 Sults; if you paid us $10 you would not get the worst of the bargain, but as a alter it a bit. You can give it all the wear you care to.

They are made up same as our high-priced suits, and ought to bring $12.00 or $14.00, but when we buy an article under the price it goes the same way to you; to-

placed on our tables at $5.00 more money. Some of them are made of serge, silk-like finished goods; some are made of hard twisted, Russian blue, wire woven serge, coats satin lined, or satin lined one-half way around and skeleton back, vestbacks of satin. They are gems of the tailor's art, any style of coat or vest you may ask for; price

We imagine there is some call for a low-priced cheviot or cassimere suit useful for a different occasion than a blue serge. The sale of cheviots and cassimeres has been overshadowed so much by serges that we have determined to make a break on the pricethey must go. Men's Cheviot and Cassimere Suits, that were sold during April and May at $7.00, $8.00 and $10.00, have been sorted out and bunched in one lot for
